

“Solomons Island”

a poem inspired by Carol Wade’s painting, Waiting at Solomons Island

by Cindy Herndon

The sailboat calls to me.

The gentle lapping water challenges me

To embrace the day.

The empty mast

Rises, beckoning me

To hoist a sail.

Without it,

The boat is but

A floating anchor.