

“Tantalizing”

a poem inspired by Julie Allinson’s painting, Moonrise over Back Creek, Solomons

by Judy Angelheart

Divinely drawn to
The old leather bound book
Of ancient astronomy
Searching through the pages
To find what it says
About a dark night like this
When full moon will tell her tales

Stepping out into the mist
I can just make them out
Sharp wings and pointed tails
Shriek cries
Dragons fill the sky
